

Isokon is now the primary supplier of software for probate work

Isokon extends its lead as the primary provider of software for probate and private client work by adding 11 new law firms as customers in the last four months: Birketts (Ipswich), Browne Jacobson (Nottingham), Cartmell Shepherd (Carlisle), Chubb Bulleid (Wells), Cullimore Dutton (Chester), Debenhams Ottaway (St Albans), Grindeys (Stoke-on-Trent), Kingsfords (Ashford), Parrott & Coales (Aylesbury), Ramsdens (Halifax), Woodfines (Cambridge).

Isokon is now used by almost 40% of law firms involved in probate and private client work in any reasonable volume. The bulk of probate work is done primarily by medium sized firms spread throughout the country - despite which 20 of Isokon's customers are Top 200 firms.

Isokon is an accounting system for probate and private client work - more than just case management.

Most important, a number of Isokon's customers have reported that they are achieving gross profit margins in excess of 70% for their probate work as a consequence of using Isokon.
